

CYRA PRAYER REQUESTS

*The Power of Prayer from everyone is unbelievably great!
Please keep everyone in your thoughts and prayers.*

Feb 12, 2007 - Please say a prayer for Mary Harris today 2/12/2007. She is having surgery on her lung. I do not know all specifics. Doctors are saying it is a cancerous tumor that they are removing. At this point Doctors feel it is not the type of cancer that spreads. Her only request was prayers.

Feb 13, 2007 - Shay Messick, the daughter of one of the sponsors that helps us w/getting stock to the rodeos and such, has been diagnosed with Type 1 Diabetes. Please send out prayers for Shay and her family to help her in this trying time!

April 3, 2007 - Please pray for our nephew Cayle Hines who was shot in a mission in combat operations on April 2nd. He is currently in the hospital in Afganistan. They were ambushed on a mission, he was evacuating wounded when he was shot. We are waiting on word of his conditions. Please also pray for the 3 other soldiers wounded during the ambush. Two are in critical but stable condition and one is critical. His 1st Sgt. was shot in the larynx and is not breathing on his own.

Thank you from the whole Hines Family.

UPDATE April 18, 2007 – Samantha is now facing possible amputation of her foot! The doctors are trying to pump as much blood to her foot as they can to save as much of it as possible! Samantha's health is good, but her spirits are not! Please keep Sam and her family in your thoughts.

UPDATE April 30, 2007 – Samantha has only lost two of her toes and is expected to be out of the hospital soon!

April 17, 2007 - This is a little late but every prayer can help. March 21st my dad, Richard Nuessen, was flown from our house to St Luke's north hospital, because he turned his neck and something popped in it. He could not stand up and got really dizzy. My mom called the EMT's and when they got there, they called life flight, because they said it was too serious to drive him. They had thought that he had a stroke. Life flight got there about 10 minutes later. It took about 7 minutes from our house in Paola to get to the hospital. After several tests they found out he did have a stroke. He is still on his way to recovery. Every one please keep my dad, (Richard Nuessen), in your prayers! He is still not feeling well and can not go back to work.

Thanks, Becca Nuessen

May 9, 2007 - My name is Michelle Abendroth and I'm the webmaster for CYRA web-site. I'm asking for everyone to say a prayer for my sisters baby who has just gone back into the hospital for her second heart surgery. Her name is McKenna. She's only a couple months old and is facing a third surgery when she turns 2-3 years old! This little gal and her family have endured a lot of struggles and everyone's prayers and positive thoughts are deeply appreciated and very much needed! THANKS, Michelle Abendroth

UPDATE 3/25/2007 – Just wanted to let you all know my Kenna doll saw her cardiologist yesterday. It was not what I was expecting to hear so I have been quite emotional. I knew she had some narrowing of her coronary artery. Her cardiologist wanted to get a second opinion and sent everything to Boston to a team of Dr's up there to help her decide if the 3rd surgery will even do anything for her. The other option, is a heart transplant. I am not sure when I will find out what she hears from them up in Boston, but I will definitely keep you all updated. Please just keep her in your prayers!

UPDATE 9/19/07 - GREAT NEWS!! McKenna saw her Cardiologist today, she is 16 lbs & 27 inches long! The Doc received a letter from Boston and they feel because she did so well with her first and second surgeries, that she should be fine having the third surgery and NOT a heart transplant!!! YAY! The Doc said around two or three she will be needing her third surgery. She doesn't have to go back to her cardiologist for six months. So maybe now we can work on improving her motor skills!! She still ten months and still isn't crawling!! Although she has been showing us that she can stand with support very well. She is extremely proud of that!

May 13, 2007 - Please Keep Colby Hines in your prayers. He was playing in his last soccer game 5/12/07 when he fell and suffers from a broken elbow. He has to see a specialist Monday or Tuesday. Hoping it isn't as bad as they think! Thanks Carla Hines

Oct 2nd, 2007 – Please keep Kiley Hall in your prayers! Kiley recently lost her horse to a broken leg, after a short 4 day ownership! A lot of money went into buying this horse for Kiley and now the family is unable to afford a new one. This could be the end of Kileys' Rodeo experience for awhile. Thank you, Michelle Abendroth

Oct 3, 2007 – Please keep Carl Hines in your prayers as he continues through his testing for lumps found on his thyroid. He will have a biopsy on Thurs Oct 4. This was found when he had what was thought to be a heart attack about a month ago. Thanks, The Hines Family

UPDATE 10/17/2007: Please keep Carl Hines in your prayers. He will be having surgery to have his thyroid taken out. His surgery is scheduled for Dec 10th. Unknown if it is cancer at this time. Thank you the Hines Family
